the funds with which to pay army pensions was exhausted, and that no further payments of pensions could be made until after July 1. Mr. Bell, the chief of the agents' division, said that all of the other twelve agents would proba-bly be out of money by the middle of next week, but that the soldiers and their dependents would only have to wait for a few days for their money, as it was the intention of the commissioner to have ample funds with which to pay all outstanding vouchers telegraphed to each of the agents not later than July 2.

THE PRESIDENT AT CAPE MAY.

A Morning of Enjoyment Driving About the Beach and a Glimpse of Base Ball Later.

CAPE MAY, N. J., June 22.-Cape May is beautiful to-day in its elaborate display of bunting thrown to the breeze in honor of the President of the United States. About 10 o'clock this morning General Sewell secured a handsome pair of blacks and a drag, and drove over to Cape May Point, followed by his son, Master George Sewell, driving a beautiful bay pony to a dog cart. According to arrangement made with the President and Mr. Wanamaker, last evening, halting before the Wanamaker cottage, the President and Mrs. Harrison, with baby McKee, took seats in the cart, while Mr. Wanamaker and the baby's nurse were given seats in the drag. General Sewell held the lines and led the way to Cape May, where the nurse remained at the Sewell cottage, with Mrs. Harrison, while the Postmaster-general and the President took a spin up the beach drive and through the town. A sight of General Sewell at once gave a clew to the thought that the President must be one of the party, and thus many were privileged to catch a view of him as he passed. Baby McKee sat between Grandpa Harrison and Mr. Wanamaker, closely held by the President. Afterward the entire party went out, the President and Mrs. Harrison occupying the cart. An occasional halt was made at the cottage of some of General Sewell's friends, and introductions followed. Lunch was served at the Sewell cottage, after which the distinguished guests returned to Cape May Point for an afternoon's quiet

The President, this afternoon, visited the Athletic Park, where a base-ball game was in progress between the Cape May team and a team of Indian boys from the Lincoln Institute, Philadelphia. It was ten minutes past 5 o'clock when Manager Hamilton's coupe, containing the President, General and Postmaster-general Wanawas driven through the en-The game of ball was abandoned, while the President and party were driven up beside the grand stand and halted. Cheers were given by the assembled crowd, a college cry and a campaign yell was given by the players, and the President bowed his acknowledgments. There was a large amount of hand-shaking done by the boys, who crowded around the carriage to see the President of the Union. The party remained upon the grounds but ten minutes, and then pursued the pleasures of the drive. Baby McKee was taken along,

LABOR TROUBLES.

Illinois Miners Alleged to Be in Destitute Circumstances Owing to a Long Strike. CHICAGO, June 22 .- A morning paper reports the result of a tour of investigation into the condition of the mining people in the towns of Braidwood and Streator, Ill. It says: "The condition of Braidwood is one to call forth the commiseration and the immediate practical help of the people of the United States. The normal population of the town is about 5,000, all directly dependent upon the coal mining industry for their daily bread. At this time not one ounce of coal is being mined, and the inhabitants are at the point of starvation. Men, women and children alike share in the blight which has overcast this section. The causes of the stagnation are two-the continued depression in the coal industry here and the culminating strike, or lock-out, which has placed 1,500 bread winners beyond the possibility of utilizing their labor. The reporter found that most of the single men and some of the married men had left the town in search of work. He discovered many families with six, eight or ten children without a morsel of food in the house. Some who have gardens are living on potatoes and lettuce. Many have not tasted meat this year. Food supplies in small amounts have been sent them, but they are totally inadequate to the necessities of the case. The article further says: "There is a pressing and immediate necessity for relief for these poor people. Not less than three thousand women and children are in absolute want of food, and relief cannot be too quickly sent them. At Streator about 2,500 miners have been idle for seven weeks, resisting a proposed reduction of ten cents per ton in the price of mining. To date about eight hundred applications for relief have been received. The relief committee states that many families are living on bread and water, and that there are about three hundred applications for help that they have failed thus far to relieve on account of lack of funds.'

SPOKANE'S THIRD VICTORY

The Fleet-Footed Montana Horse Easily Captures the Great American Derby.

A Spirited Race at Chicago, in Which Kentuckys Old-Time Favorite, Proctor Knott, Failed to Get a Creditable Place.

CHICAGO, June 22.-Noah Armstrong's horse farm lies in the Rocky mountain divide, between the Columbia and Missouri rivers, in Montana, close to the Indian reservation. Two years ago Armstrong purchased at the Meadows, near Carlinville, Ill., a yearling thoroughbred by Hyder Ali, out of Interpose. When General Rowett saw the newly foaled colt, he declared the youngster must be shot. He was so puny and out of proportion that it would not pay to raise him, so the General said. However, when Mr. Armstrong priced this weakling, among other racers, its owner thought himself well rid of a cast-off for $250. Armstrong shipped the colt to his Montana farm. The raw-boned brute sniffed the air of the Rockies, and was fed the wild flower of the Indians. He grew big and lusty, his sides expanded, his limbs became rock-strong, and turning into his third year, the Illinois outcast was a thing of equine beauty. He was named Spokane, and, without dreaming of turf honors, modest Armstrong entered his horse in several stake events. This spring Spokane was shipped to Kentucky, and, while the Southerners narveled at his sight, their money was intrusted to their own Proctor Knott, whose fame was great, but Spokane defeated the idol in the classic Derby. A week afterward the pair again met in the Clarke stakes, and again Spokane's chances were scoffed at, but the great futurity winner once more fell before the despised Mon-

To-day, at Washington Park, the rivals for the third time faced the flag together, and with them journeyed five other fleet racers, the very cream of the 147 horses originally nominated for the greatest threeyear-old prize-the American Derby. To no avail was the blue-grass of Kentucky, on which Proctor Knott, Long Dance and Retrieve had fed; to no purpose had Once Again been carefully nourished on famous Tennessee bran; impure must have been the air of California's climate for Don Jose and Sorrento, for Spokane, cast from the prairies of Illinois and nursed to life by the dew of the Rockies, and the little wild flower of the Flathead medicine-man, raced away from them all and became at once an equine marvel, winner of a triple event.
Forty thousand people shouted in appreciation of the performance, and $1,000,000 changed hands on the result. The race was an exciting one, because the tremendous crowd made it so.

The great show was made in the preliminary parade, in which each of the contestants looked fit to compete for the valuable stakes. Sorrento was first on the track, with Taral in the saddle. Then Proctor Knott, with Fitzpatrick, appeared, and was followed by Long Dance (Barnes), Don Jose (Winchell), Retrieve (I. Lewis), and Once-Again (Murphy). Last Came Spekane, whom Tom Kiley allowed to lope past the cheering crowd to the post. During the three breakaways, Proctor Knott broke away in front each time, plainly showing that Bryant's disappointment was to be the pace-maker.

When the flag fell, for the Derby race, Once-Again was in front, followed by Sorrento, Don Jose, Proctor Knott, Long Dance, Retrieve and Spokane, in the order named. The "Dare Devil" immediately plied the whip, and Knott shot ahead like a flash, Once-Again being taken back by Murphy. The pace was very fast, and all seemed content with their positions, which, down the stretch and past the stand, were not changed, except that for a moment Don Jose made a spurt. There Knott had an advantage of two lengths over the others, who were well bunched, with Spokane bringing up the rear under Kiley's strong pull. Past the club-house, with its wealth of fashion, Knott lost some of his lead, and as the seven horses raced past the three-fourths pole Sorrento was one and one-half length behind the leader and one-third that distance better than Don Jose. Then, as Fitzpatrick let out a link, all moved up and the pace became desperate. When the one-half mile mark fell behind the racers there was just day light between him and Retrieve, who had come up in the rush, while Don Jose was still third and Spokane fourth, Long Dance and Once-Again being practically out of the chase. Sorrento, who had been running easily in second place all along, was cut off on the great turn, and and while making for the stretch was and while making for the stretch was actually last. Then Taral pulled the Californian to the outside, and, making up lost ground, flew to the leaders so rapidly that his backers trembled with joy.

As the home stretch was touched he was second again to Proctor Knott, but there the futurity winner gave out, and there Spokane made his run. So fast did the Montana colt run that, rushing past the last quarter, he was actually leading, while Knott had already fallen into third place. Retrieve divided the pair. Again Sorrento advanced gamely, but, though stronger than those behind, could not disturb Spokane, who came away under Kiley's upraised hand, but without tasting whip or spur, and won very easily by a full length. Sorrento was second, a head before Retrieve, third, followed by Don Jose, Long Dance, Once-Again and Proctor Knott. The latter, cut up and very tired, stopped at the saddling paddock, and was taked to his stable, while the crowds hurrahed and the band played as a saddle of roses was being placed upon the winner's

So much money came down from the Northwest that Spokane went to the post a heavy favorite at 6 to 5. The closing odds for Knott were 2 to 1; Don Jose, 4 to 1; Once-Again, 6 to 1; Sorrento, 8 to 1; Long Dance and Retrieve, 30 to 1, each.

When Spokane reached his stall he was almost mobbed by the Montana stable's frenzied attendants, who clung about his neck and would not allow him to rest until the trainer Rodegap had shouted himself hoarse. He was rubbed down and lightly fed, and as the sun went down, the stable boys gathered under his shed and told of the great horse's prowess. A rusty darky placed a big pot on the fire. and filled it with small white leaves taken from a bag. It was the medicine-man's life-giver, and it was being prepared for Spokane's next meal. Shortly a tall, redfaced man, with a brown beard and hands thrust clumsily in his trousers pockets, sauntered along the stable path. It was Sam Bryant on his way to his own stalls. As he passed the Montana stables he was attracted by the laughter and loud talk. and, turning in that direction, saw the big darky stirring the steaming mass in a pot, his mouth stretched in a broad grin. As he stirred and added the white leaves, he sang, the only intelligible words being "Spoke, my Spoke." Sam Bryant sighed, a tear glistened in his eye, and he continued his way to join Proctor Knott. Following is the result of the other races: First Race-Purse of $600; three-year-olds and upward; one mile. Robin Hood went off in the lead, and kept it until near the finish, where Marchma came up and won by a head; Liederkranz third. Time, 1:46.

Second Race-Purse of $600; all ages; three-quarters of a mile. Monita Hardy led to near the three-quarter post, where Penn P. passed her and won with ease; Monita Hardy second, Von Trump third. Time, 1:18. The third race was the Derby.

Fourth Race-Purse of $610; one and one-sixteenth of a mile. Vidette led for a mile, when be was passed by Pat Donovan, who won by three lengths from St. Nick, with Vidette third. Fifth Race—Purse of $600; for two-year-olds; five-eighths of a mile. Redlight led all the way and won by two lengths. Protection was second and Sis O'Lee third. Time, 1:0414. A most unfortunate blunder on the part of the judges occurred, which led to serious results. "No. 7" was put up as the winner instead of No. 3, making it appear that Baggage had won the race instead of Redlight. Britton, who rode the winner, went up to the judges' stand to remonstrate, but was not listened to, the judges apparently not yet discovering the blunder. The crowd raised a howl, and for an hour the greatest confusion prevailed. The number having been hoisted, the natural result was that the bookmakers paid out on the strength of Baggage being the first horse, and the Paris mutual Ayer's did the same. When the judges, an hour once.

later, finally discovered and acknowledged their error, the mischief had been done, and nearly all the ready money betters had been paid. An indignation committee called upon the treasurer, J. R. Walsh, and were assured that the injustice would be rectified, at a meeting to be held to-morrow at the club-house. A dispatch from Louisville says the betting there to-day was heavy. Proctor Knott, at odds, ranging from 2 to 1 and 3 to 1 against, was a great favorite with the local turf followers, and the bulk of the money was placed on him. When 3 to 1 against Knott and 6 to 5 against Spokane was announced from Chicago, there was a great rush to get money on Knott.

A Good Day's Sport at Sheepshead Bay. SHEEPSHEAD BAY, June 22.-The usual Saturday throng, about 15,000 persons, was here this afternoon, and witnessed a fine day's sport. The racing was high class in every respect. The track was very fast, and the weather delightful. First Race—Three-fourths of a mile. Drizzle won in 1:16; Reclare second, Burring third. Accomplished a Great Walking Feat.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., June 22 .- The walk ing feat of W. L. Lake, the pedestrian, was suc cessfully accomplished in this city. He walked 500 half miles in 500 half hours, consecutively. He commenced the walk at 4 A. M. on Wednes-day, June 12, and finished to-day at 1:30 P. M. The longest time that it took at any one time to make the half mile was eight minutes, and the shortest was the last half mile, in four minutes and nine seconds. At 3 P. M. he made a parade, headed by the bands and a carriage containing Mayor Russell and others. The entire city assembled around his headquarters this afternoo and the streets for squares were impassable Five bands were out, and an address was made by 'Squire Ramsey. Mr. Lake is very much of a gentleman, and is highly respected by all of our citizens. He will probably go to Lafayette from here. A public reception will be held at the Nutt House Sunday afternoon.

SAD SIGHTS IN JOHNSTOWN.

Revelations of the Pile of Debris About the Bridge-Incidents of the Flood.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June 22.—Dynamiting the wreck was vigorously continued to-day above the bridge. With nearly every shot bodies were found, but they were so much decomposed that, identification was almost impossible. The body of a young lady supposed to be the daughter of John Linton was recovered this evening. One of the sad sights of the day, was the recovery of the body of a woman and an infant lying closely together. The mother was badly burned and decomposed. The baby had evidently been born in the water, and was fairly well preserved as the days as had not reached in served, as the flames had not reached it. The part of the mother's head that had escaped burning was almost entirely eaten away by worms. At 4:30 o'clock this evening, Jacob Deiler, a laborer from Newark, N. J., was fatally injured by the falling of a derrick. One of the dynamite shots cut the guy-ropes holding the derrick in position, allowing it to fall. Deiler was cut about the head, his legs broken, and he was injured internally.

The fact that nearly all of the saloons in Johnstown, Cambria City and surrounding boroughs were again in operation has caused much annoyance to General Hastings and those in charge of the work. Judge Johnston to-day telegraphed from Ebensburg, ordering that no intoxicating liquors be sold in any of the boroughs or adjoining townships for the present, or un-til the order is revoked. A refusal to com-ply with the order will be deemed sufficient grounds for the revocation of license, as well as a refusal of license in future by the

To-day, while a gang of men were at work removing the debris from a livery-stable, near the Baltimore & Ohio depot, they heard a faint cry from a pile of wreckage near by. They set to work, and half an hour later rescued a living cat, which had evidently been imprisoned there since the day of the flood. It was a veritable skeleton, its neck being no thicker than a man's finger. The feline was carried to the Red Cross Hospital, where it was kindly cared for, and christened "Red Cross Flood." It will recover, and is attracting much atten-

An order was issued to-day suspending all work to-morrow, and the day will be given up to attending religious services and

Late this evening oil was poured over the piles of wreckage and fires lighted, to consume as much of it as possible by Monday. August Bumgardner, a resident here, and a foreign laborer, both em-ployed in clearing up the wreckage near the Pennsylvania railway bridge, were reported dangerously sick with blood-poisoning in their arms. The sun blistered their bared arms, and the fetid water poisoned them. The arms of both men were swollen out of all proportion, and the physicians express little hope of the recovery of either. The foreign laborer was sent to a Pittsburg hospital and Bumgardener is at his home in Kernville. Two new cases of typhoid fever were reported among the workmen this morning. and were taken to the Red Cross hospital The Red Cross people have opened additional headquarters near General Hastings's headquarters. This organization is still doing much good. All the local physicians met accidentally at the Bedford-street Hospital last night. They represented all parts of the stricken city, and after discussing the calamity all joined in the conclusion that not a soul less than 10,000 people were lost in the flood. On account of the general knowledge of the people possessed by the physicians the estimate is looked upon as reliable.

Twenty-four of the portable houses, from Chicago, were assigned to the same number of the most destitute families here, to-day. The houses are expected to reach here to-morrow. A car-load of stores reached here, to-day, from Pittsburg. They, with other necessary furnishment, will be placed in the portable houses as they are assigned. County Treasurer Howe, to-day, had notices posted, stating that he would be here July 3, for the purpose of collecting taxes. But little of the property assessed can be found, and the tax-payers left here feel outraged at the posting of the notices, many of which have been torn down and destroyed. The First National and the Johnstown Savings Bank resumed business to-day.

Death of a Well-Known Railroad Man.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. COLUMBUS, Ind., June 22.-Lorenzo Jett, one of the most widely known railroad men in this section of Indiana, died at his home, five miles east of this city last night. The deceased was forty-nine years of age and un-married. He held the position of bridge foreman on the Jeffersonville, Madi-son & Indianapolis railroad for several years, and only resigned when a better position was offered him in Arkansas as superintendent and road master of the Iron Mountain & Helena road. He assisted in the construction of the new Capitol and the Union Station at Indianapolis. His funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, under the auspices of the I. O. O. GOSSIP FROM GERMANY.

The Coming Wedding of Prince Leopold and Princess Louise-The Emperor's Health. [Copyright, 1889, by the New York Associated Press.] BERLIN, June 22 .- The festivities attending the wedding of Prince Frederick Leopold, brother of the Duchess of Connaught, began to-day. Princess Louise, of Schleswig, the Prince's fiance, arrived at Bellevue Castle at noon, and was received by the Emperor and Empress, Prince Frederick Leopold and members of his family. At 4 o'clock this afternoon the bridal pair made their state entry into Berlin in a splendid coach. To the Brandenburg gate the route was kined with cavalry, and thence to the Schloss with infantry. The burgomaster and magistracy welcomed the pair, and the Emperor formally received them at the castle. The signing of the marriage contract was followed by a family dinner. The King and Queen of Saxony, the Grand Duke and Grand Duchess of Saxe-Wiemar, and a large number of Prussian princes and German sovereigns are expected to arrive to-morrow to attend the wedding, which will be conducted in great pomp and splendor. The bridegroom's gift to the bride is a diamond diadem, the gems of which weigh 170 carats.

Politicians are now mainly concerned with the question of the meeting of the Emperors. The Czarewitch left St. Petersburg this morning and is expected here on Monday en route to Stuttgart to attend the Wurtemberg fetes. It is believed that the visit will result in an arrangement in ac-cordance with which the Czar will come to Emperor William's proposed visit to Alsace has been abandoned on the advice of his physicians, who recommend a short period of complete rest before his journey to England and Greece. The doctors wanted the Emperor to take salt-water baths at some watering place, but he refused. It has therefore, been arranged for him to take salt baths in the yacht Hohenzollern during his trip to Norway. He will generally sleep on board the yacht but when it is necessary to stay ashore a log cabin will be run up for his accommodation. He will amuse himself with fishing and shooting, and will make a short stay at the Lafoden islands, one of the best fishing stations in Europe, A man-of-war will accompany the imperial yacht.

Fetes are being arranged to celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the accession of the King of Wurtemberg. The Stuttgart Gazette (official) publishes a proclamation in which the King expresses his joy that he has been permitted to discharge the duties of his high position during a momentous and troubled period; thanks the people for their loyalty and devotion, which he says are the best reward for his endeavors for the welfare of Wurtemberg, and asks God's blessing upon his house and people. to paint a picture representing the scene at the moment when he led the foot-guards past his father at Charlottenburg, on May 18, 1888. This was the only occasion upon which Frederic inspected the troops as Em-

GENERAL FOREIGN NEWS.

An Array of Noted Witnesses to Be Examined by the Parnell Commission. LONDON, June 22.-Mr. Timothy Harrington, M. P., and Mr. Thomas Sexton, Lord Mayor of Dublin, will testify before the Parnell commission next week. At the request of Mr. Parnell, Mr. Michael Davitt will not give his testimony until the defense closes. Sir Charles Russell will ask the court to permit Mr. Davitt to make an address in his own behalf before he gives his testimony. Mr. Davitt proposes to show that government employes planned dynamite outrages and put them into effect. James McDer-mett, who is residing at Hamburg, has offered to appear before the commission and disclose intrigues of government agents, and give proofs of connivance at outrages. Mr. Parnell, however, is averse to treating with McDermott. Counsel for the Times will recall Mr. Parnell, and will also reexamine Le Caron. [Copyright, 1889, by the New York Associated Press.] BERLIN, June 22.-The declarations of the Swiss Bundesrath, in relation to the Wohlgemuth affair, are regarded here as putting an end to the differences between Germany and Switzerland. The North German Gazette to-day withdraws all countenance from Wohlgemuth, whom it de scribes as surprisingly wanting in sagacity, and indiscreetly confiding in his dealings with a political swindler, who was unknown to him. This unexpected ending of the matter by the disavowal of Wohlgemuth is largely due to Lord Salisbury's steady refusal to address any remonstrance to Switzerland. It is also a concession to public opinion, which strongly opposed the idea of any measures of reprisal

Four Blocks of Small Buildings Burned at Vancouver, W. T .- Incendiarism Charged. PORTLAND, Ore., June 22.-Fire broke out early this morning in Vancouver, W. T., and in less than two hours swept over nearly four blocks in the business portion of the town. These blocks, fortunately, were covered with small frame buildings. and the loss will probably not reach $70,000. The insurance is very light. During the night there were two fires, both undoubtedly of incendiary origin. Early in the evening an old Catholic church in the suburbs of the town was discovered in flames. There was every indication that the building had been set on fire. After the firemen and citizens had returned home, another fire was discovered in an old building in another part of the town. About 2 A. M. the third fire was discovered in the rear of a bakery. The wind sprang up, and before the flames could be brought under control they had devoured everything on four blocks. While the fire was at its height Mayor Brown, of Vancouver, telegraphed to Portland for aid. saying the town was burning up. An engine was sent with all possible haste, but the fire was subdued before assistance arrived. About thirty buildings in all were destroyed. No one was injured.

During the fire the city jail was burned, and two prisoners were removed with great difficulty, so rapidly did the flames spread. The panic during the time the flames were raging was so great that many persons, blocks away, moved their goods and personal effects into the streets. Many wild rumors were circulated during the fire about men being caught cutting hose, but the stories proved unfounded. The losses fell mostly upon the poorer shop-keepers, a number of whom lost their all. There will be some suffering, but outside help will hardly be required. The origin of the fire will be rigidly investigated, and, if caught, the incendiaries will be dealt with sum. the incendiaries will be dealt with sum-The latest news from Vancouver places the estimates of the loss by the fire at $53,- | port no change in the condition, and give 600. The total insurance will not exceed $15,000. The space swept over by the flames is about four acres.

A Washington Remance. American Notes and Queries.

The latest Susan Pye had a prototype in Washington thirty years ago. To the house of a well-known clergyman there came a handsome young man, an attache of a European legation. He was accompanied by a veiled woman, and they requested that the marriage ceremony be performed. Unlike the Camden minister, the clergyman did not tear the veil from the woman's face, but she finally yielded to his representa-tions and removed it, revealing an unmis-takable African face. In answer to the young man's entreaties that he would proceed, the clergyman stated the law of the country, and the couple departed, the lover pronouncing a bitter diatribe against such a law! Their subsequent history is unCONDITION OF MRS. HAYES.

She Is Surrounded by Her Family, But Is Unable to Recognize Any One.

FREMONT, O., June 22.-The residence of ex-President Hayes, in Spiegel Grove, is to-day filled with sadness. Although the family bear their grief well, yet they show their anxiety. The condition of Mrs. Hayes to-night is not perceptibly changed from last night. She remains speechless, but rests very quietly. Last evening, several hours after the stroke, General Hayes thought she understood what he said. He asked her if she understood him, and if she did to press his hand, which she did with her left hand. He also thought she indicated in the same manner that she was without pain. Her son, Webb, came from Cleveland, last night, and said she had not recognized him in any way. If she is conscious now it is hard to determine. It is difficult to distinguish much change from yesterday. Webb thought if there was, it was possibly for the better. This afternoon she was anable to retain any medi-The General said last night that during the past winter both he and Mrs. Haves

All the children are at home. Birchard from Toledo, Webb from Cleveland, and Scott Cornell Rude Fannie are at home in constant attendance on their mother. Intimate friends of the family entertain the gravest doubts of her recovery. A brother of Mrs. Hayes, Dr. Joseph Webb, died from the same trouble nine years ago, living only ten hours after the attack. Letters and telegrams of sympathy are being received from friends—among them General Sherman, William Henry Smith, John W. Herron, John Eaton, Alonzo B. Cornell, Dr. McCabe, Colonel Alonzo B.
